Hastings seeks plowing match

Hastings county has extended an official invitation to have the International Plowing Match held again in this county.

The invitation was extended early last week at the annual convention in York of the Ontario Plowmen's Association by county representative Kenneth Member of Rawdon of Rawdon township.

Sites for the International Plowing Match have been promised for as far ahead as 1976 and it is not known for what year the Hastings invitation will be accepted.

Rev. W. C. Cox of Stirling conducted the funeral service at the Weaver Funeral Home, Campbellford, on Saturday, Feb. 25. Entombment took place in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Jack, Bob and Fred Spencer, Clarence Thompson, Percy Reid and Ralph Heath.

New truss factory under construction

Construction has started on a new truss manufacturing shop on the north side of the Stirling Lumber Ltd. yard on North St.

The 3,500 square foot building is expected to be ready for occupancy by the end of March, Arthur Loucks, manager, told the Stirling News-Argus.

The new factory has been producing roof trusses for the entire Peterborough-Lumber Company chain for the past eight years. The Stirling building centre is the only yard in the chain,

Stirling Girl Guide News

On Tuesday night, February 8, 1972 the Girl Guides held their snowmobile party which consisted of over 20 snowmobiles and drivers and 30 guides. The group met at Elaine Footwear and proceeded on their way to James Hoards residence.

After arriving they were treated with hot dogs and hot chocolate. They then returned to Elaine Footwear.

A regular meeting of the Girl Guides was held on February 15. The girls discussed plans for Thinking Day and about their service project. They are hoping to visit with residents of nursing homes and shut-ins. The group is planning on asking the Scouts to assist them with this project.

On February 19 the guides placed a display in the window of Patterson's men's wear store. This display will remain there for a week.

On February 22 the guides were hosts to their Thinking Day celebration. The Brownies were invited to attend. There were games, songs, skits which everyone enjoyed and our leaders gave a reading about Guiding.

Spinaceas, until they have finished blooming, for their flower buds

only living charter member of in 1897. There was also an historical report of those early days. The letter also contained notes and pictures of the anniversary birthday party held at Stoney Creek, Ont. in Sidonia Hall on Saturday evening, February 12. The four-tiered cake was held by Mrs. Lloyd Daw, president of the Stoney Creek W.I.; Olive Smith, president of the Associated Countrywomen of the World; Mrs.

Evelyn Wilson, president of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada and Miss Marjorie Lee, daughter of the late Erland Lee.

On Thursday, February 24, Stirling Horticultural Society
sponsored a bus trip to Toronto.
Mrs. Carman NB made the arrangements and 41 people made the trip. There is Mount Pleasant.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen, several of the group attended the 25th anniversary of the Garden Club of Toronto at the O'Keefe Centre. The president's message told of the gradual growth of the club since 1947.

There were thousands of people in attendance on Saturday view to the lovely flowers and garden scenes. Perhaps the most memorable was a replica of the Fragrant Garden for the Blind, which was given to the National Headquarters in 1956 by the garden club of Toronto. It is planned for the pleasure and safe exercise of the blind who live and work at the Institute but anyone is welcome to visit.
Another replica showed the Crippled Children's Enchanted Garden presented in 1962 to the Crippled Children's Centre. Here the children have specially designed play equipment where they derive enjoyment and benefit. Many donations have been given and one of note was from Metropolitan Toronto as a gift to Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth, to commemorate the birth of her baby son, Prince Andrew.

Another scene was the Black Creek Pioneer Village started in 1961 to preserve authentic gardens and shrubs pertaining to 1867.

The scenic corner, Growing Herbs in your Garden, showed a large array of herbs, some of them not very familiar. The various displays were of exceptional merit with a large assortment of herbs.

magnificent flowers. Some of them were the Rockwells and Woods-lums in bloom, the Old World Rose garden complete with a fountain, a Bordered Garden, showing the natural, unspoiled,
countryside; an orchid display;
many miniature arrangements; a new look in window boxes and planters. The 1972 display was a large extended stage of the auditorium. All of the individual awards were arranged in their own compartments and were very beautiful.

Among the saleable articles were lovely African violets, geraniums, orchids, heather from Scotland and pussy willows. To the long rows of flowers and gardens it was a very worthwhile and enjoyable day.

Timmy Night

Among charities deserving support from the public in their annual appeal for funds, the Easter Seal Campaign surely must rank near the top.

The value of the relief from suffering and aids to the handicapped provided through this continuing program could never be measured in dollars and cents.

Locally, the Stirling Rotary Club for many years has conducted the Easter Seal campaign. As a result, thousands of dollars have been donated to the cause of helping youngsters to overcome or live with serious physical handicaps.

Thursday night, the Rotarians will sponsor a Timmy Night at the Stirling Theatre, to kick off the annual drive for funds. First class entertainment has been lined up and the cost of admission is only $1.00.

Appropriately, the star of the show will be Stirling's own Timmy, Randy Sarasas, who has benefitted from the Easter Seal program for 16 of his 17 years.

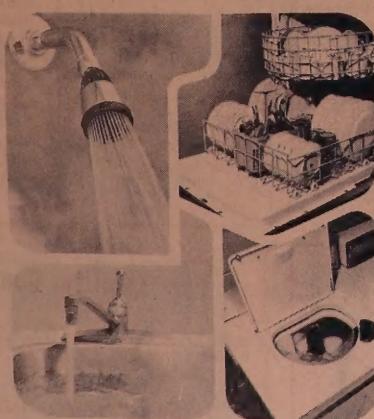

By supporting this event, Stirling residents will demonstrate that they DO care about the less fortunate members of our society. Even if you cannot attend, you could assist the effort by purchasing a ticket from any Rotarian, at Klompmaker Bros. Groceries or Noble's Drug Store.

Your dollar will ease the burden carried by some crippled child. What could be more rewarding than that?

A Weekly Meditation

by Pastor Edward MacDonald
Good Tidings Pentecostal Church
Treasurer

"Peace, peace, peace!" "No more wars!" The cry for peace rings out amidst the turmoil and the aggression of one nation against another.

But, can there ever be a lasting peace? Can there be an end to the anguish of the young heart that yearns to be free from the contradiction of life and the fear of death?

Along with the cry of peace one can hear the echoes of those that demand freedom, "I want to be free." What is freedom? Is freedom anarchy? Is freedom upholding only the laws we deem just? If we deem freedom to be that quality that gives us full right to do as we please, then how can a nation of more than one person exist without chaos?

The earth will never come until there is peace in man's heart. Love and freedom will not come until one subjects himself to the highest of all governments in existence—the moral government of God.

You have an intellect to reason with, and sovereignty to choose between right and wrong. You also have the desire to get your own way. In some cases that means breaking any law that would keep us from our lusts or desires. Now, a person can only see that if everyone chooses to please one's self there would only be chaos. That is why the world is rocked and reeling in a chaotic condition. Man has chosen to live for self—has broken the moral laws of God—which were set down for his own good.

Are you living just for yourself? Reason tells man that the only wise thing to do is to turn over his will and life to Jesus Christ so that His will would be our will. This is the only way the world can survive, because Christ would fulfill His desire for our life, and this would be for us to love Him and our neighbor.

Love is willing the highest good for the other person. This law must be the highest law in existence, for only when it is maintained can men live together in peace. The question is asked; if God is a God of love why doesn't He stop wars and famines, etc? God has given us free choice and He wants us to choose Him willingly, for He will not force us to serve Him. God also said if you will not serve Me (which are for your good) wars and famines will cease. (2 Chron. 7:14). But as man continues to rebel against God and His moral government, these conflicting problems will continue.

Man is blaming God for a situation which has been brought about, and will continue to blame God for the results. Man has chosen to serve for self and has chosen Christ Lord of His life. Any man or woman that does not make Christ Lord of their life is committing high treason against the moral government of God.

What must we do? Admit to God that Jesus alone that we have rebelled against God and turn from your sin and ask Christ into your heart as Lord and Saviour of your life. (2 Peter 3:9).

"He that the Son sets free is free indeed." John 8:36.

DO IT BETTER

Do You Remember?

25 Years Ago

Only the fact that Mrs. F. N. Mc Kee, who operates the local restaurant, sat up late to catch a bit of reading Saturday night saved this village a disastrous fire in the early hours of Sunday morning. Dectecting smoke in their private apartment, Mrs. McKee roused the other members of the household and after investigation it was found that the smoke was seeping through from H. C. Bird's grocery. Mr. Bird was aroused by phone and making his way to the basement found the fire in the refrigerator unit. He was able to extinguish the flames with aid of a fire extinguisher he had picked up on his way down stairs. The refrigerator metal platform supporting it together with motors, belting, etc., were all destroyed by the flames. Speaking to the News-Argus, Mr. Bird said "a few minutes more and everything would have gone up in smoke." The loss is covered by insurance.

A new time table takes effect on the Central Ontario Railway on Monday next, March 4th. Trains will call at Anson station, going North, at 7:10 a.m. and 1:40 p.m., going south at 10:15 a.m. and 4:25 p.m.

The public meeting held on Monday evening, though successful in point of numbers, and with a good array of speakers, cannot be said to be a very satisfactory one as regards a betterment of the telephone situation. There were three representatives of the Bell Company present, and all had their say, but not one of them held out any hope or promise of any improvement in the service now given. But little was said in reference to the organizing of an independent telephone company, which we think is the only way to secure a good service. The experience of other places shows that an independent company can give a good service, and also at more reasonable rates, at the same time paying a good dividend to stockholders. This matter should receive the earnest attention of all interested in securing a good telephone service at moderate prices.

A good game of hockey was played on Friday evening when the local Juniors trimmed Belleville Juniors by a score of 13 to 7. At full time the score was 7 to 7, but on playing 10 minutes over time Stirling won. The game was one of the most exciting played here this year, as the score was tied on four different occasions. Belleville play a nice combination and are fast skaters. Graham in goal, for Belleville, played a star game, as also did Spagnenberg on the defense. For Stirling the whole team played well.

Keeping it clean

with Bill Dodds

Let Henry do it.

School bus driver Henry La-roche doesn't seem to be getting emotional about litterbugs and their trail of garbage.

"A lot of people are getting emotional," he says, "not too many are doing anything."

But he's doing something with a group of Brampton children... their parents and neighbors refer to them fondly as Brampton's Little Litter Patrol.

"We decided to do something and we hope that the habit," Henry says, "We are just plain citizens doing our duty."

Five youngsters form the faithful nucleus of the little patrol... there are others who work regularly. But wherever they go, other children watch the fun, then dig in and lend a hand.

At Brampton's annual flower festival, he had free midway ride tickets for his young helpers in recognition of their efforts to keep the grounds clean.

When other children saw the free tickets, they set to work too.

"Pretty soon there were 50 kids running around cleaning up and there wasn't enough litter to go around," Henry recalls.

"It's not unusual for the children to get rewards for their work, but already some of them are turning down the rewards," he says.

One of their big cleanup jobs is the patrolling a section of Claireville Conservation Area, a heavily used centre operated by the Metropolitan Toronto and Region Conservation Authority.

Patrols will never come

The patrol cleans up a section each Monday morning before the conservation area opens to the public at 10 a.m.

They have found the answer to the rising tide of paper, bottles, cans and trash cast aside to deface our parks, cities and countryside... Just bend over and pick it up.

The trouble is, too many of us are too lazy and too ready to let Henry do it.

Rebekahs hold meeting

A very pleasant meeting was held by the Laurel Rebekah Lodge #211 in the I.O.O.F. Temple, Charlotte Street, Stirling, when the members were welcomed by the Noble Grand, Sister Madeline Walker. Sister Marjorie Stapley, vice

A donation of money was voted to be presented to Sister Betty Robinson, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Ontario, to be used for her project, when we visit with Tweed Lodge.

The official visit of the District Deputy President, Sister Ruth Jardine of District 4, to our Lodge will be at the first meeting in April.

Sister Patricia Merrill, PNG, asked the staff to stay after the meeting for a practice, after which refreshments were served in the banquet hall.

The president called the meeting to order and we opened with the 4-H Pledge. We examined and discussed about different knit fabrics. The leaders demonstrated the proper way to adjust the pattern for knit fabrics and how to alter the pattern for cutting.

Each member made the necessary adjustments and alterations to her pattern to make it suitable for knit fabrics.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Unless you are using a pattern designed for knits only, you may want to make some adjustment to your pattern to reduce some of the ease and to make it more suitable for a knit fabric.

Now is a good time to get your farm "power plant" ready for spring work. If your farm workshop doesn't have the right tools to test your tractor, you should get compression tests, a dynamometer tests, and a hydraulic cylinder pressure test. Diesel tractors should be given fuel injector tests.

Compression tests will give you a check on the condition of your tractor's valves. The dynamometer will give you horsepower readings and fuel consumption under full load conditions. The carburetion in your tractor's fuel system could require just as much attention.

In diesel tractors, fuel injection pressure is important, because it requires enough pressure to vaporize the fuel to obtain maximum power and fuel economy.

Even though all drive cars, and most farmers drive tractors, the spring tune-up is often not a planned event, but happens after we discover poor performance from our motors. Points, plugs, rotor, condenser, and a new di-tributor cap may be your most effective investment this month.

Cleaning out plugged grease fittings, installing new water and hydraulic hoses where needed, cleaning out radiators, screens, and replacing air and fuel filters are simple maintenance jobs on the tractor. Topping up your tractors differential gear oil and crankcase, or replacing the oil is another simple task but important. Your Co-op can provide you with the right Co-op tube oils and gear oils for the job. The important thing is to plan and do the maintenance work in time to avoid losing valuable hours in the spring rush.

Although some persons find it more convenient to increase their Dahlias by dividing the clumps of tubers, just as satisfactory results may be obtained from cuttings. Plant the tubers in peat-moss and as soon as the sprouts have made several inches of growth cut them off and place them in sharp sand. If one or two pairs of eyes are left on the original shoot, these will start into growth and still more cuttings may be made later.

Snow Job
A 10-inch snowfall dumps about 1,000 truckloads of snow on every mile of city street according to the Salt Institute. Most of this can be plowed away, but delcining chemicals are needed to clear the remaining ice and create bare pavement conditions that prevent accidents and keep traffic on the move.

Mother Trouble

Dear Margaret Brookfield:
My 66 year old mother, now widowed eight years, lives alone in the city and while keeping busy with housework and some volunteer work, has made absolutely no social commitments of her own. Instead she comes reg-lously to our suburban home each and every weekend and holiday throughout the year. The main portion of her existence is here. I love my mother very much - she is and has always been most welcome - but I find myself more and more squeezed by her loneliness. Having just turned 40 myself, with four teen-age children

KEEN ON SPORTS

This thoughtful boy is Jon, 11 years old and Oneida Indian in descent. Jon is a handsome lad, as you see, with sparkling brown eyes, black hair and medium complexion.

Jon is healthy, and active, interested in vigorous contact sports. He plays floor hockey and soccer and he's keen on judo. In summer he plays baseball. He seizes every opportunity to go hunting and fishing. His favorite reading is stories about famous sportsmen.

An average student in Grade 6, Jon has the potential to be above average. His special interests are electricity and science.

As a Cub, Jon is always working to earn new badges. The latest is for cooking.

Busy as he is, Jon has given a lot of thought to his future. He wants very much to have a home of his own with parents who are outdoors enthusiasts. He would be very happy to have older brothers. Farm life appeals to him, but he admits there are attractive features about living in town, as long as there is scope for sports and general outdoor activity.

He will be a rewarding son for warm, understanding parents who will realize Jon will need time to realize he is really part of a family. To inquire about adopting Jon, please write to Today's Child, Box 888, Station K, Toronto. For general adoption information ask your Children's Aid Society.

Wood frame cuts building costs

The following excerpts from a speech by John W. Poole, President of Dawson Developments Ltd. of Vancouver, are of widespread interest to all Canadians concerned about housing:

"The building industry is accused of being behind the times, of using antiquated, obsolete methods. We don't apply modern management concepts, we're old fashioned, slow to introduce assembly-line building systems. Some sources would have us believe that factory-built housing is going to sweep the country."

If you believe any of the foregoing, you're headed for frustration and disappointment. They are just not true. Industrialization of housing has been tried again and again in different forms and no cost miracles have resulted. Certain conclusions can be supported. Industrialized housing is not a faster way, is not a better way, it's just another way.

I expect to open the paper tomorrow and read about a revolutionary scheme to build walls out of some new, nonwood material. This new wall system will supposedly reduce the cost of a house by 30 per cent.

Now this would have to be some hell to have a material because the cost of a stick-built wall, that is 2x4's, plywood, siding and gypsum board represents less than 10 per cent of the total price of the dwelling. If we replace the conventional outside wall with nothing, which is hardly a practical idea, the most we can save is 10 per cent. The fact is that no system ever designed to replace the versatile 2x4 costs less. It costs more.

Wall panel systems with hardboard facings, aluminum facings, foam plastic cores, spacer cores, etc., all proved to be much more expensive than conventional wall panels and skin construction. The result is that not one of them is on the market. It is a well documented fact that all efforts to date to industrialize the shell of a house have been unsuccessful.

The most spectacular result of this endeavour to industrialize wall panels is the growth in the production and sale of mobile homes. A mobile home is truly industrialized. Operators are built in the plant and it costs less than a conventional house of the same size. This could perhaps be called a successful example of cost control by industrialization except for one thing. By any existing yardstick for housing the mobile home is substandard. This is significant. That a conventional home will truly last a lifetime. If we look, not for the life of the unit, but just fifteen years down the road, chances are a conventional dwelling unit will be worth double its original cost.

Education

This is the time set aside to focus attention on that most important facet of our young people's lives especially, Education Week. When you look at the provincial government spending, it is an important segment of your tax dollar as well.

Views on education like everything else have radically changed in the past few years, and just how well-accepted they may yet be a matter of contention. Their intrinsic value may be great to the student, but so far, there has been seemingly little done except move the various county boards into the bus business and close numerous rural schools.

All these things have been done in the name of improving the caliber of education, along with making teacher requirements more demanding, and other things that have been done in the name of progress.

What seems to have been lost in the same intervening years, if the actions of today's students are any criterion, is much of the respect for authority that used to be so prevalent in every day life. The every day occurrence of student demonstrations that defy description seem to indicate that some where along the way, values have been ignored or the important lessons of living missed during formal education.

If examples of bygone years are of any value at all, much could be done to improve youth's attitude by redeeming the home life that used to prevail in this country. There certainly are more things to entertain, and be entertained but there are still ways that this enjoyment could be done as a family unit much more than it is.

We may disagree with how many things are done, but if every effort is made to keep the family unit strong, and add to it a good education, then our country will still have no fears.

SPRING BROOK

A Weekly Meditation

(By Rev. JOHN A. MAY)
St. Paul's United Church, Stirling
Christmas week I was involved in a "Love Experience," the type of which I have never before come in contact with: eighty teenagers + sixteen to nineteen complete strangers big "C" Christians little "c" Christians non-believers, seeking to become Christians.

How is it possible for eighty strangers to experience a love and Christian fellowship in five days that the same number of church members who have lived, worked, and played together almost all their lives cannot achieve during the extent of their lives?

Obviously, these people do not truly believe or live God's love, the love that never ends, the love that accepts even the most sinful, the love that gives good gifts the love that desires change for the better, but can accept what is already there.

To me this especially means reaching out to the person next to you: the neighbor, the friend, the stranger, the teacher.

And this is what we did at Five Oaks. One boy who arrived during our sing-song the first night couldn't believe that we were all strangers. "I walked in at about 7:30 and there was this guy playing a guitar and a big group of people sitting around him, singing and laughing jokes, I had been told that no one could know it was us, but when I saw that these people all knew each other I felt like an outsider because I didn't know anyone."

Another boy who arrived the next morning was assigned to our group. When he walked into our room he surprised himself and everyone else by saying "You know it's funny but I really feel like I belong here." Both Craig and Bill were surprised because they found out that none of the rest of us knew one another either.

Throughout the week we learned new things about people and their problems. In our group alone there were:

drug addicts
alcoholics
juvenile delinquents and former drug addicts
alcoholics
and juvenile delinquents

We all talked about things our best friends didn't even know about. When we found a special problem and expressed our wish to help if we could, that problem opened his whole heart. We in return for this trust tried to help him work out his problems in the best possible way for him. That week I didn't hear anyone laugh at someone else's suggestions.

accuse someone's problems being trivial, laugh at someone else's opinions, or swear at himself at God at anyone else in the camp. Worship was an everyday

Do You Remember?

25 Years Ago

Messrs. Roy Eggleton, Thos. W. Solmes, and W. M. C. West, Hydro Company, and Mr. F. A. Spangler, manager of the local hydro system, attended the O.M.E.A. convention in Toronto on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The worst blizzard in the memory of some of the older inhabitants swept this district the fore part of the week and left streets and highways covered with snow. Starting Saturday the snow fell intermittently until Monday. An accompanying high wind whipped the snow into high drifts and by Tuesday morning traffic throughout the district was at a standstill.

Waist-high drifts blocked streets in all but the business section of the village, and cars were stuck everywhere. It was a storm to linger over, the memories of which will be often with them themselves some day. They will be telling their grandchildren of the big storm of 1947.

The highway to Trenton was kept open, although heavy going was experienced but Highway 14, from Belleville through to Morris was blocked. The Ridge Road and the Campbellford Road were also blocked to traffic and concession roads were so heavy that even horse-drawn sleighs couldn't negotiate them. All bus services as well as all railway transportation were cancelled.

Misses Ruth Linn and Shirley McKeown, both of Mount Pleasant, successfully passed Grade 8. Their examinations. Both received first-class honours and are pupils of Miss Grace Pitman, A.T.C.M.

Miss Katherine Wright, of Stirling, obtained an honour standing in her A.T.C.M. examination in music, both teachers and solo performers.

Miss Barbara Braxill, of Stirling, also passed her Grade VIII examinations with honours. Miss Braxill is a pupil of Mrs. H. H. Alger.

Miss Katherine Wright has completed her course at the Ontario Business College, Belleville, and has accepted a position with the Central Ontario Credit Exchange at Belleville. She will begin her duties on Monday next.

The beautiful people...

Sometimes I get discouraged. There's a picture in our office of an outhouse. Do you realize there is a man in Ontario who is idiot enough to build an outhouse on the end of his dock? I wonder if he swims there. I'm sure the people in the cottages around him don't.

And I just read a statement by a British Columbia mining executive. He said open pit mines are beautiful .. they "offer relief to the constant green of the landscape, interesting rock formations exposed to view and form a potential tourist attraction."

What really bothers me is that he could be right.

I love northern Ontario and the "constant green of the landscape" .. especially around Lake Superior. But I'm beginning to think that a lot of the tourists I share my summers with just aren't comfortable with unspoiled natural beauty.

There's a spot north of Marathon .. a view of Lake Superior with rock outcrops and islands that takes your breath away. A. Y. Jackson sketched it in his travels through Superior country.

I saw it first in 1969. Last summer I came out of my way on a holiday trip to stop and take a picture ... something to bring it all back when winter in the city gets too depressing.

The first time I projected those color slides, something caught my eye ... a flash from the bottom left hand corner of the screen.

It was the sun, reflecting off the end of a soft drink can. There was a little pile of cans and broken bottles, caught by a ridge as they rolled down the sloping rock of the outlook.

That little heap of garbage is in every slide I took there. And it's getting to the point where I can't see anything else in that scene but that damned garbage.

It's getting hard to remember how beautiful that place is.

Now I'm noticing things in my

The academic wing of the new college, which is being built on the east side of the Otonabee River, will incorporate teaching facil-ities, faculty offices, a dining hall and two common areas for students and faculty.

The wing will connect directly with Trent's present science complex and will be joined to the residential wings by a covered walk which will also house facul-ty and college administrative of-fices. This will provide an "in-ternal street" more than a quarter-mile in length.

Facilities in the academic wing will include a 350-seat lecture theatre (the university's largest), a branch of the student health service and 36 faculty offices. It will also house seminar rooms and other teaching and labora-tory areas for the departments of anthroplogy, sociology, psych-ology, native studies and geo-graphy.

Exterior walls of the academic-commons wing will be of concrete block to match the col-lege's residential wings.

The latter, which will house some 340 students, will be com-pleted during the 1972-73 academic year. It is expected that the fifth college will be ready for use by the fall of 1973.

The meeting closed with the singing of the Queen and the Intermission Grace. A lunch of pie and beverages was served by Mrs. Clancy and Mrs. Tanner, assisted by the hostess, Mrs. Frank Smith.

River Valley WI holds 75th anniversary dinner

By Mrs. Percy MacMullen
On Friday evening, March 3, River Valley Branch Institute sponsored an anniversary pot luck supper at the Centre for the folk in the community.

Long tables were arranged and a decorated cake with blue candles and lettering in honor of the 75th anniversary of the first institute. South Creek was arranged at the top table and flanked with blue and gold decorations. The cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Philip Conley.

The supper was convened by the Agricultural group. A picture of Adelaide Hoodless overlooked the gathering.

Eighty-two men, women and children were in attendance and included Mr. and Mrs. G. Bartels and family of Coryville, who were former residents, also Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Sine and son and Fred Neasman.

Previous to the meal the Institute Grace was sung. For the cake ceremony, the oldest member, Mrs. John Kammer, sliced the knife and the president, Mrs. George Grills, extinguished the candle. Mrs. Gerald Brooks carried the cake to the kitchen where it was cut and served.

After the tables were cleared Mrs. Glenn Bush was chairman for the program. She welcomed everyone, especially the visitors. A humorous skit was given by Mrs. Ernest Carr and Mrs. Roy Tucker. This depicted a sales lot for used people where you were able to purchase a used brain, legs or lungs, and heard their slogan, "know your organ dealer."

Norman Rosebush and Mrs. Francis Sager contributed violin and piano music.

Mrs. Roy Tucker, president of Hastings West District, gave a vivid picture of the childhood home of Adelaide Hoodless, who was born on February 27, 1857.

She was the youngest in a family of twelve children and she grew up on the old homestead known as "The Willows" at St. George in South Dundries, Brant County. It was heated by stoves and a large stone fireplace in the cellar. The home had a boy's room up the back stairway and a girl's room up the front staircase. Foodstuffs were kept in a pantry of the kitchen with fruit, vegetables, cream and milk were kept on the blackboard. The programs are open to all the ladies in the community.

The birth of the Women's Institute was on February 19, 1897, following an address given by Adelaide Hoodless at Guelph Agricultural College a week previous. At that meeting she urged that girls should be taught Domestic Science in public schools.

Erland Lee, secretary of the Farmer's Institute in Saithwaite township then invited Mrs. Hoodless to speak at their annual ladies night. A few evenings later 101 women attended a meeting at Squires Hall despite the stormy night and organized the first world institute. The theme "For more education to prevent similar tragedies, which were very common at this time.

River Valley WI is just one small candle in this great link of institute work.

Mrs. Gertie Brooks gave a resume of what benefits are derived from Institute work. Sixty-five years ago it was called "The University for Rural Women." This past year some of the programs presented at the institute included a speech by a nurse about the heart and lungs, a visit from the chairman of the board of education and an outline of the new school system; a visit to a local cheese factory and the Ameliasburg Museum; a resolution re snowmobilers and this has passed all institute levels; and the explanation of four different types of educational courses from the Home Economic Branch of the Department of Agriculture and Food.

The topics for this year, from which a choice is to be made, are listed on the blackboard. The programs are open to all the ladies in the community.

The 4-H club for girls 12 to 26 was explained. At the present time there are 10 girls in the River Valley club and a mile and a quarter to school. In 1968 she wrote a book entitled, "Domestic Service."

She married John Hoodless of Brantford, on September 15, 1881. When her youngest baby son died from contaminated milk she decided that mothers needed

Home and Country" has now covered the world.

River Valley WI is just one small candle in this great link of institute work.

Mrs. Erland Lee and her husband wrote the constitution for the first women's Institute.

Mr. F. W. L.C. organized the renovations at Guelph University and it will be named the Family and Consumer Affairs Building. The branches in Ontario assisted and $50,000 was received for this project.

The Federated Women's Institutes of Canada purchased the Adelaidia Homestead in 1960 for a historic site.

A few years ago F.W.I.C., organized Institutes in northern Ontario. In the last issue of "The Northern Lights" magazine the officers were listed and there were 10 institute branches in the northwest territory and four branches in the Yukon.

Many of the members are Eskimo women. F.W.I.C. also helps with the national peace gardens between Manitoba and North Dakota. The Associated Countrywomen of the World held their 13th Triennial World conference in Oslo, Norway in August, 1971.

Their latest project was to provide a landrover to Lesotho. Since Africa has any other mode of transportation is almost impossible. In past years a tractor was sent to Greece and sewing machines to Cayton.

The F.W.I.C., Federated Women's Institutes, have purchased the Erland Lee Homestead for a museum.

In this house there is the famous walnut dining table where Mrs. James Hoard sang, A Song of Peace," Mrs. Roy Bush expressed thanks to the men who have given so much help at the time to carry the tables from the basement and other necessary items of wood.

Mrs. Francis Sager and Mrs. Sheldon McIntosh conducted a sing song of old favorites.

Mrs. Cameron Sine, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bush then entertained with a large array of colored slides. Some were local scenes of the area, while portraits, a scene of the Erland Lee homestead where Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bush visited a few years ago and sat at the famous walnut table. There was also a large array of scenes taken in the sunny south when the group were on holiday in December, 1971. The gorgeous flowers, the various animals in the park, the beautiful scenes of the Yukon enjoyed. The first picture shown depicted Mrs. Tucker and Mrs. Bush beside the Erland Lee replica taken at the Royal York, Toronto, where they attended the 75th anniversary in February 12.

At the close of the pictures they were given an ovation for their part in the program.

The president, Mrs. George Grills, voted them to all those who were in attendance for their community spirit. She also thanked Mrs. Glen Bush, Mrs. Roy Tucker, Mrs. Gerald Brooks and Mrs. Philip Conley for their part in arranging the anniversary party.

DOLLARS AND GOOD SENSE

By WILLIAM J. MARTIN
In the market for a new home? Here's a handy checklist of what you should be looking for according to a variety of lenders.

Location, of course, is all important, not only for your living convenience but for maintaining resale value. Check local zoning ordinances, check for a good school system and check for the nearness to shopping and recreation areas.

Check last year's tax bills then add 10% to estimate current taxes. Check running costs such as painting, lawn care and replacement of worn parts. If a house is 10 to 15 years old, you can figure on costs of about 2% a year of the house price.

Check on utility costs - heating, electric, gas and telephone.

Is the house structurally sound?

Get an expert to check it out before you buy.

Look in the telephone book's Yellow Pages under home inspection services. An inspection could cost less than $100, but it will tell you whether you'll need immediate remodeling or repair work.

Check the architecture of the house. How's the floor plan and room arrangement?

Take a look outside the house. Check the lot and landscaping. The house ideally should be situated on its lot for outdoor privacy in summer and properly oriented in relation to sun, wind and trees.

Then check the mortgage. Be sure you can afford the monthly payments for the mortgage on the specific house you buy.

Don't forget the closing costs. These include fees for legal services, the title search, recording, surveys, and other necessary service.

It pays to spend some time doing your home work - before you buy - even before you start house-hunting. You can get a lot of good information on houses buying at your library, in magazines, or from your local bank.

Elaine Workers Defer Increase

Organized labor at Elaine

Footwear last Monday voted again to defer wage-increase demands on the company.

The decision, by Local 754 of the Boot and Shoe Workers Union, amounts to a moratorium on contract wage demands for a year.

The workers' decision is linked to the beleaguered economic state of the shoe industry, in which domestic manufacturers like Elaine are being sorely pressed by foreign imports.

Ian Reilly, the Belleville who in international representative for the union, says the union seeks a 15 per cent wage increase.

However, last September the union agreed to a contract extension for six months which granted certain fringe benefits but without any pay hikes.

Such a voluntary gesture by organized labor is unusual "but it happens," agreed Mr. Reilly.

Local 754 has a membership of about 150 men and women, he estimated.

"That's a one-year extension with no wage increase, actually," said Mr. Reilly. "They (the workers) haven't had a wage increase now for a year and a half."

He said the company was hopeful of an improved economic climate by fall.

Presbyterian women's group holds meeting

An air of celebrations pervaded King St. United Church, Trenton, recently, when the United Church Women of Belleville Presbyterian met for their 1971 annual. The happy mood was the result of a number of things, including banner strewn walls of the host church, bright sunshine, joyous music and the enthusiasm of an unusually large crowd. President, Fran Spear, focused our thoughts in her opening welcome, as she read Rev. A. G. Simpkins' stand at the door... Open your heart to Christ, close your lips to the president.

Creativity and welcome were given by Mrs. V. Lange, president of King St. U.C.W., and by Mrs. C. Thompson from the conference U.C.W. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Seel, Mrs. Thompson announced the following dates: U.C.W. Conference Annual, April 10, and 11 in Queen St. United Church, Lindsay; leader, Dr. Parker, of Queen's, U.C.W. School at Quin-Mac-Lac on Sept. 8, 9, and 10, guest speaker, Miss Edith Christopher.

Mrs. Guy Haynes and Mrs. C. Kelts literature, gave a very comprehensive account of their many books for sale.

Mrs. L. Hagerman led in a lively sing song using hymns from the new hymn book. The speaker for the morning, Dr. E. L. Long, was introduced. Mrs. Jeanne Kerr sang and thanked by Mrs. Ellen Kerr.

Thomaston U.C.W. led in the worship service for the afternoon, taking stewardship as their theme.

To show how all parts of our lives are involved in stewardship six members dedicated the following articles, a candle, needle, Bible, bread, coin, and pen. Those taking part in this very effective service were: B. Sutcliffe, Mr. J. Rollins, J. Morton, M. Emmons, A. Ketcheson and M. Foster.

Mrs. G. Smith, chairman of the finance committee, brought a recommendation that $500 of the Presbyterical surplus be donated as follows: $250 to the bursary fund and $250 to the lay foundation.

This recommendation was lost and a motion from the floor to split the amount 3 ways, among the lay foundation, the bursary fund and the stewardship fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Galoway, Betty and Linda of Trenton, were supper guests Sunday evening with the White family.

Mount Pleasant

(By Mrs. Percy MacMullen) Mr. and Mrs. Percy MacMullen, Belleville, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Couch, Mr. and Mrs. William Scott Moira, visited her daughter, Mrs. Archie Bailey and Mr. Bailey and family last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith attended the funeral of their uncle, Bruce Morrison, in Toronto on Wednesday.

Eight men from here enjoyed a bus trip on Thursday, March 2 to Guelph, sponsored by Snarr's of Hoards Station. They visited the United Breeders building and the Flora Research farm.

The group consisted of William McAdam, Garth Joslin, Douglas Campbell, Roger Barrett, Mac Sharp, Ralph Jeffs, Robert C. Herold and Herbert Smith.

Mrs. Charles Hicks, Belleville, is spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Adam.

THE MAX FERGUSON SHOW

Together again! The inimitable Max (he's the one with the running shoes) and the irrepressible Allan McFee (the sartorially splendid gentleman on the left) are reunited in The Max Ferguson Show, heard weekdays at 2:30 p.m. EST on CBC Radio. Lots of chatter and music (Max's choice), humor, a sound quiz and guests who make witty and wacky observations on the passing scene. All of it lively, low key and topical. "Positively, Mr. Ferguson." "Absolutely, Mr. McFee."

Consulting engineers approved by OWRC

Stirling apparently has a firm of consulting engineers acceptable to the Ontario Water Resources Commission.

At Monday's council meeting, the OWRC advised that the firm of Greer, Galloway and Associates, with head office in Peterborough and a branch office in Belleville, had been retained for this type of work, and have been asked by the commission to prepare an estimate of the cost involved in preparing plans required by the OWRC.

In its terms of reference, the OWRC asked the firm to prepare plans that would be capable of handling a population of 2,000 by the year 2,000 as far as the lagoon system and sewer extensions are concerned.

This approval by OWRC means that the work started last year to enlarge the lagoon can be resumed. The drawings submitted

Fire hydrants require attention

Fire Chief Graham Mouck told council Monday night something must be done about safety at the Stirling Community Hall and also several fire hydrants need attention.

The chief appeared before council Monday night and told them that two exit doors were blocked with snow, and must be kept shovelled at all times.

On the subject of hydrants, he mentioned three that by virtue of their low position, are covered with the first pass of the snow plough. He pointed out that they must be shovelled out to be used and this was also impractical after each snowfall.

Stirling 4-H Club

The Stirling Knit Knacks met at the Senior School on February 28 for their third meeting.

The meeting came to order and we opened with the 4-H Pledge. Among the topics we were discussed in the business portion of the meeting was the design of our record book covers for Achievement Day.

The business was followed by a discussion on getting ready to sell knit fabrics and fitting the garment for sewing. The leaders demonstrated the proper procedures for pressing knit fabrics.

Each member fitted her garment to make it ready for sewing. The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

What your dollars do.

As told by Denis Lapalme who was once a crippled child.

I'm sure glad to be able to thank everyone for the help they give me and crippled children at Easter Seal time. Three years ago I was in a bad accident. A train ran over my legs, but I'm okay now, even though I wear artificial legs. I can play hockey, ride a bike, climb trees and play ball.

I'm this year's Timmy and it's me you see running on the new Easter Seal cheques.

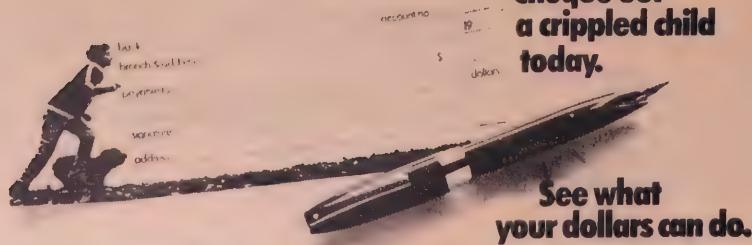

Will you please send in your donations to help make the other crippled children better like me.

Thanks very much.

Yours truly
Denis Lapalme

REFUGES AND SANCTUARIES

Along the major waterfowl migration flyways, refuges and sanctuaries have been established to provide resting areas during spring and fall flights. Some are staging areas where the birds stop-over before continuing their journeys, others provide permanent wintering grounds. Among some of the better known are: The Jack Miner Sanctuary at Kingsville, Ont., East Meadows near Oak Point, Manitoba; Macoun's at Regina, Sask.; the Ministry Park near Edmonton; Allard and the Reifel Refuge at Vancouver, B.C. In the U.S. there are many including Silver Lake, Rochester, Minn., Devils Lake, S.D., Bear River, Utah, Crescent Lake, Nebraska, Mark Twain, Illinois, Squaw Creek Mo., Horicon Marsh, N.Y., and Aransas Refuge in Texas.

What to look for when purchasing plywood

Canadians buy and use 1.5 billion square feet of softwood plywood annually but sometimes the jobs they do are not suitable for conditions when moisture or humidity are present, and even when manufactured with waterproof glue, exterior types graded according to the minimum U.S. standards do not meet the specifications of the Canadian Standards Association.

There are many plywood manufacturers throughout the world. There are also significant differences in methods of manufacture, species of wood used, type of glue, and in the standards to which manufacturers adhere.

To manufacture plywood, thin layers or plies of veneer are glued together with each layer running at right angles to the one immediately above and below it. This cross lamination accounts for plywood's exceptional two-way strength and dimensional stability. Each sheet of plywood has an odd number of layers so that the grain on the outside plies is parallel for a uniform appearance.

Foreign manufactured softwood plywood are available in two types: interior and exterior. Interior types are not suitable for conditions where moisture or humidity are present, and even when manufactured with waterproof glue, exterior types graded according to the minimum U.S. standards do not meet the specifications of the Canadian Standards Association.

The specifications of the Canadian Standards Association regulate the manufacture of plywood. Only fully waterproof glue bonded under heat and pressure is acceptable to CSA standards, and they require that the quality of the plywood be strictly controlled.

Plywood veneers are graded into four categories. Using these categories in various combinations, twelve standard grades of plywood panels are produced and graded according to the quality of the surface veneers.

The name of the grade often indicates its end use; i.e. marine, concrete form or sheathing grade plywoods, but the home handyman will most often come upon the words 'Good' and 'Solid' as grades on the plywood he purchases. Medium Density is used for any job requiring a superior paint surface. High Density Overlay is ideal where a hard finish is required, e.g. table tops, signs, container tanks.

Knowing plywood grades and quality will save you time and money. Douglas fir and western softwood plywood bearing the edgemark PMBC EXTERIOR are manufactured with fully waterproof glue meeting CSA specifications.

Stirling Novices will enter into their Group Finals this week against Marmora or Brighton after defeating Campbellford in two straight games.

The Novices clinched the semi-finals on Sunday afternoon after they doubled the score on Campbellford 4-2. Scoring for Stirling were John Klompmaker, Rusty Kirns, Mark Montgomery and Richard Anderson.

They had easily beaten Campbellford 5-1 on Friday night in the second game in the best of three series. Jacob Talsma scored with Richard Anderson and John Klompmaker drawing the assists while Bruce Myers added the other, unassisted.

The first game on Wednesday night was tied 3-3, Mark Montgomery, Bruce Myers, and John Klompmaker scored for Stirling.

The Novices finished fourth in seasonal play with Marmora first followed by Campbellford and Brighton.

The Novices are playing off for the Legion Trophy while the Pee Wees are trying for the Major Fraser trophy.

In the Legion Pee Wee House League semi-finals on Saturday morning, Stirling Creamery shut out Stirling Rotary 4-0 while Riverside Construction toppled Elaine Footwear 9-0.

Peewees gain tie at Stroud

The Stirling Legion Pee Wees played to a 4-4 tie against Stroud in the second game in the best of three Ontario Pee Wee D semi-finals on Sunday in Stroud. Stirling was defeated by Stroud in the first game 5-2, on Saturday night of last week.

Craig Morton and Brian Mitchell helped each other out, with each getting a goal and an assist. Mark Dobson picked up the other two goals with Barry Danford drawing both assists.

Stirling led the game 4-1 up to the five minute mark of the final period but Stroud stormed back with three quick goals. There was no scoring in the ten minute overtime period.

The township of Huntingdon has the decision of if Stroud wins, in this best of three semi-final series, will be played in Stirling on Friday night at 8:00 p.m. The team is looking for good support by local fans as many of the local hockey supporters will be in Nobleton with the Bantams or in Kingston with the Girl's team. The fourth game would be in Stroud on Sunday.

OH BOY, DOES THAT LOOK GOOD!

The smell of fresh baked bread spread a tantalizing aroma through the kindergarten class at Stirling Junior Public School on Thursday afternoon of last week. The kindergarten pupils, with assistance from their teacher, baked several loaves of bread as part of a project for education week. News-Argus photographer, Roy Lewis, caught these young men, (from left) Richard Jones, Jeff Thompson and George Stone, as they were having a look at the bread shortly after it had come from the oven. The boys only had a short wait and then they, along with the rest of their classmates, received a sample of bread and butter.

Dr. A.M. Laverty honored at Queen's

A testimonial dinner was held recently to honor Rev. Dr. A.M. Laverty who left the ministry of St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, a quarter of a century ago to become the chaplain of Queen's University.

The chaplain, now 57, was presented with a $3,000 gift for the "Chaplain Fund" - a fund tapped in a hundred and one ways, on behalf of Queen's students and staff, as the chaplain sees fit.

The regime of the first full-time university chaplain in Canada, and the only one Queen's has had, has embraced the four principals of Dr. Robert Wallace, Dr. William Mackintosh, Dr. James A. Corry and John J. Deutsch.

Dr. Laverty was born in Toronto and had his early schooling there. During his high school years, he worked for the T. Eaton Company as a checker and wrapper, and continued part-time work at Eaton's during his four years at Victoria College.

He received his BA in 1934 and three years later, his BD, at Emmanuel College and was ordained to the ministry of the United Church of Canada.

From 1941 to 1945, he did a stint with the Canadian Army, as chaplain.

Dr. Laverty is a common participant in all convocations, where he is official "invited guest." These convocations include the naming of noted public figures such as President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1938, and on another occasion, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt; three Canadian Prime Ministers, Lester

Senior Citizens welcome new member

There were over 50 present at Senior Citizens on Thursday. The prize winners at euchre were Margaret Fitchett, Hub Faulkner, Lill Heasman and George McMullen. Lenora Williams and Mary Cook were the lucky ones in the Guy Bradshaw draw for pens. Well the choice of eligible male members is growing girls.

Last week we welcomed Gordon Bailey as a new member of our club. A tasty lunch was served by Margaret Ward, Edie Sharpe, Lenora Williams, Helen Agar, Jeanne and Helen Dafee presented Lloyd Dafee with the largest and most beautiful cake we have ever seen. A DIFFERENT WAY OF LIFE

A group of students from Stirling Public School conducted a recent study on the Mennonite way of life. They spent a few days at the farm of Rudy Shetler, R.R. 2, Stirling, and constructed a dish-play for education week. Tom Cooke displayed a pitchfork made entirely of wood while Ellen Jones operated a butter churn. Both items are still used on Mennonite farms.

Boy Scouts hold father-son banquet

On February 29, about 135 fathers, sons, members of the IOOF and visitors, sat down to a pot luck supper to celebrate the annual Father and Son Banquet.

Rev. Edward MacDonald said grace and some mothers of the boys very capably served the meal.

While the ladies were clearing the tables, Rev. Charles Staples led a sing song.

Chairman of the group committee, Roy Tucker then introduced the head table and addressed the fathers at the event. The toast to the fathers was very nicely given by Joey Hart, and replied to by Douglas Detlor. The chairman thanked the IOOF for the use of the hall and the Past Noble Grands for the use of the dishes. Donald Porritt spoke on behalf of the Legion, George Carlisle then introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. John Watt.

He thanked the committee for the invitation and gave a very inspiring talk on imitating. He said that most boys try to imitate someone, mostly their fathers. Following is different from imitating. Lord Baden-Powell did not want to imitate but try to follow the program. Try to be your own boys, but be sure and apply to our own lives what is which is good. If we do not, we cannot expect our young people to follow. Let us walk and work with them. Boys, be careful what you imitate, seek out that which is good. Fathers, set examples for your own sons. He closed with a poem.

The chairman thanked the speaker for his message.

District Commissioner Ernie Harvey spoke a few words. He said Scouting in Ontario in the Bantams take 2-1 lead in series with Nobleton

Stirling Bantams took a 2-1 lead Friday night in their best of five semi-final playoff series against Nobleton by defeating the visiting team 3-2. Stirling scored in the first period at the 4:25 mark on a goal by Dale Kleinstuber with Cliff Reid picking up the assist.

Nobleton tied it up at the 10:43 mark in the period on a shot from just over the blue line by Paul Vanderbracum that beat Stirling goalie Richard Whatman.

Stirling went ahead at the end of the period with a blistering shot by Stan Myers from just over the centre line. The goal was assisted by Jeff Farrell. There was no scoring in the second period.

Stan Myers gave Stirling a 3-1 lead 30 seconds into the final period with Robert DeJong and Kevin Solmes picking up the assists. Ron Boynton picked up the other Nobleton goal.

Stirling outshot Nobleton 34 to 14. There were nine penalties with Stirling drawing four of them.

On Friday night, Stirling centre Wally Blakely held flashy Nobleton centre Randy Bell off the scoresheet as Stirling recorded the win. Bell, who is being scouted by at least three OHA Junior A teams, averaged three goals a game in Nobleton's undefeated season, but has scored only twice against Stirling, once on a penalty shot.

The fourth game in the series will be this Friday night in Nobleton at 9:00 p.m. A special spectator bus has been arranged which will be leaving the village at 6:30 p.m. Anyone wishing tickets for the bus ride to the game can phone 395-3388 or 395-2627.

4-H organizational meeting here Mar. 20

4-H will be organized for 1972 during the school winter holiday, March 20 - 24. 4-H is open to boys and girls who are at least 12 years of age by January 1st and who may not have reached their twenty-first birthday by December 31st of the current year.

Basically, 4-H provides an opportunity for young people to learn to work with people. Every one meets together as a club to plan activities, to have fun, and to learn from a speaker or leader.

The 4-H motto is "Learn to do by doing" meaning just what it says. 4-H members are expected to get involved by, first of all, looking after a 4-H project. There are a large number of projects under the headings Livestock, Field Crops, Horticulture, Engineering, Conservation, Farm Management and others such as Light Horse or Pony Projects.

4-H members are also expected to get involved in planning and organizing activities for the year. There are also a number of 4-H awards available for outstanding achievement.

There are awards available within each club as well as on a Provincial and Regional basis.

Participation in the Provincial programs usually involve only a few people.

An organizational meeting for Stirling 4-H Club will be held at the Legion Hall on Monday, March 20 at 8 p.m.

Appeal continues for Wallace family

Grocery and clothing vouchers, along with storage facilities are the most pressing demands of a Rawdon township family left homeless Friday night when their 5th concession house was leveled in an evening fire.

Mrs. Max McGuire

of Stirling

was

co-ordinator for acting donations, which can be left at her home, at the corner of Henry and Elizabeth Streets, or at Stirling Public School where she works.

Mrs. McGuire said Tuesday that the family of Al Wallace has enough beds and other furniture at the moment, but as their new home has only one closet in four bedrooms, they are finding storage of items a problem.

Mr. Wallace is employed, but with a family of six small children, she suggested vouchers would be perhaps more useful than cash.

The fire broke out about 9:30

Friday night, and although her husband was away, Mrs. Wallace was able to get all the youngsters to safety. They were found standing in the lane where neighbors arrived.

It is believed an over-heated oil stove caused the blaze.

During the weekend, the family was located in new quarters, after spending Friday night at Dr. Bruce Murray. Donations began arriving as soon as the plight was known, and needed clothing was provided through the Belle-ville Red Cross disaster com-

Mrs. McGuire can be reached at 395-2381 for more information.

New fertilizer blander is unveiled at Foxboro

An official opening and tour of the new fertilizer blending equipment was held on Friday, March 10 at UCO Foxboro Branch.

Jack Hall of Plainfield, vice chairman of the Foxboro branch council, was chairman for the afternoon activities. Mr. Hall introduced Glen Johnston, Crop products department UCO, Weston, to the large group of area farmers.

Mr. Johnston discussed the bulk blend program in detail. The basic fertilizer ingredients, nitrogen, phosphate and potash, are all stored in bulk at the warehouse. This new service will provide farmers with a custom blend of plant food to meet each crop's individual requirements for least cost crop production.

Cliff Allen, UCO zone director, Kingston, spoke briefly about the new service. Douglas Tipper, Hastings County Agricultural Representative, also spoke about fertilizer and crop production in the county.

Alvin Donaldson, branch manager, discussed the ways of handling the fertilizer. He mentioned the fertilizer truck for custom field spreading or bulk delivery. This unit will deliver fertilizer into corn wagons, spreaders or any other facility on the farm.

Farmers can also pick up fertizer with their own trucks or corn wagons. One ton wooden tote boxes and extra spreaders, large and small, are also available.

Thurlow township deputy reeve, Borden Forsythe, pressed the control button to officially start the new fertilizer blenders and elevators. The group then toured the facilities.

UCO Foxboro Branch also offers a complete bagged fertilizer service and aqua ammonia for supplemental nitrogen. Alvin Donaldson, local manager, described the unit as a local, flexible, high speed service to meet the needs of today's farmer.

WEEKLY REPORT FROM FOXBORO DISTRICT CO-OP

(BY JACK WOOD)

Witnesses hold Kingston meeting

"The nations are one collision course that spells utter disaster for the human family," said R. Richard A. Grant, District Supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses. He spoke to an audience of 1,724 at the Loyalist Collegiate in Kingston on the subject, 'Are You Marked for Survival?'

Grant told the audience that world calamity is what far-sighted statesmen, learned historians and informed scientists foresee. He added that for over 50 years, Jehovah's Witnesses have been preaching about global disaster.

"The global disaster is a result of the nation's wickedness and their going contrary to God's purpose in making man. Not all will be destroyed," Grant added. "An individual's outlook and course of action taken will determine whether or not he survives."

He then drew a parallel between our day and the time prior to the destruction of Jerusalem in 607 B.C. "Before the destruction, the prophet Ezekiel was given a visionary tour of God's temple. He saw religious and political leaders giving worship to creatures and idols. Sex worship was practiced. The elders said, 'Jehovah is not seeing. Jehovah has left the land.' Do you see a similarity with what we are doing?"

"In Ezekiel's day, only those who were sighing and groaning over all the detestable things done in Jerusalem's temple and in the city itself were saved. These ones were figuratively spoken of as having a mark on their foreheads to distinguish them from others who were destroying God's temple. Today only those with a similar heart condition can expect to survive. The mark is what you are as a person. One achieves this mark when Christian qualities dominate his personality."

Feeder lambs should have an injection as they arrive on the farm. Breeder sheep need extra A and D vitamins at least twice a year.

Brood cows can be given an injection into the muscle when put into the farrowing crate, and their pigs injected in the first week after birth. Boars should be treated with extra vitamins about 2 weeks prior to the breeding season.

Her pen is stilled

In the recent passing of Mrs. Ellis Jones, The Stirling News-Argus lost a valuable correspondent. Our thoughts are best summed up in the following editorial, reprinted from The Campbellford Herald:

Last week The Herald published the obituary of one of the most loyal and devoted correspondents a country newspaper ever had. We refer, of course, to Mrs. Ellis B. Jones, the former Winnie Spencer.

For many years Mrs. Jones covered the Rylstone area as official correspondent to three newspapers, The Campbellford Herald, The Stirling News-Argus and the Belleville Intelligencer in a manner that was truly remarkable. Probably never in the history of The Herald, has any correspondent sacrificed so much time and effort week after week, year after year, to supply so much news and happenings for a strictly rural area, for so little return, as did Mrs. Jones. It would appear that nothing of any social nature whatever escaped Mrs. Jones' knowledge in the Rylstone area, roughly ten miles northeast of Campbellford, so fully did this industrious lady carry out her reporting. She indeed must have spent several hours away on the telephone and writing to keep her community always in the forefront of the country news columns.

So thoroughly and in such minute detail did she carry out this chore that occasionally, strange as it may seem, both she and The Herald were criticized as a result. Mrs. Jones was scored for "writing too much" and The Herald for providing her with much more space than other rural correspondents required for their budgets.

We recall one New Year's eve after we had missed an issue (over Christmas) getting an irate "blast" from another rural area because we had printed lengthy columns for Rylstone and had not been able to find room for a much shorter budget of news from this other particular area. Why? Because Mrs. Jones had headed a front page printed warning to rural correspondents to send in their Christmas personals before New Year's to assure there would be sufficient space to accommodate it, while the other rural area had no need to the important notice and the heavy demand on space for this purpose over the busy Christmas season was gone before it reached us. Actually Mrs. Jones' Rylstone news was already in print when the other news arrived. At times, though, although few knew it, we were forced to cut down on Mrs. Jones' offerings and she always took it in good grace despite the time and work she had spent to prepare her weekly budget.

When ill-health forced her to cut down on many community activities in her beloved Rylstone district, (the place of her birth, incidentally), she bravely remained as our correspondent until her final illness forced her to the hospital for the last time. She was, in truth, "Faithful unto death" to The Herald, but her work and steadfast devotion on our behalf will ever abide in our memories.

If we should be successful in finding a replacement for Mrs. Jones at Rylstone (and this is becoming increasingly difficult in any rural area as the years roll by and country living changes), we know we can hardly expect anyone to fulfil her shoes with the same intrepid dedication and devotion to the task at hand.

Mrs. Jones was one of those newspaper contributors who firmly believed, despite modern trends and changes, that names STILL DO MATTER in the news, regardless of how menial the event which puts them in print may have been, and her writings ever reflected this belief.

Truly, with the most regrettable and somewhat untimely passing of Mrs. Jones, The Herald and the community of Rylstone have lost a correspondent whose efficiency and thoroughness is seldom matched or duplicated.

We will miss her, and despite what a few critics may think or say, The Herald, in common with The Stirling News-Argus and The Belleville Intelligencer, for which she wrote with equal ardour and reliability, will be the poorer for the absence of the contributions of her pen, now sadly stilled forever by her death.....

(By Mrs. Percy MacMullen) On Wednesday evening, March 8, 35 ladies were in attendance at the hall for the meeting of the United Church Women based on Africa.

The thought for the day was "as we proclaim the fatherhood of God, let us live the brotherhood of man," and "we can give without loving but we cannot love without giving." There were numerous maps, a globe, 25 pictures depicting Brazil, Hazelton, Anglia, etc., and pictures of interest.

Mrs. Robert Howard opened with a welcome to all and a poem "Spring Cleaning."

Mrs. Milton Shaw provided a piano prelude and accompanied the hymns.

Miss Brenda Williams read the minutes and the roll call was answered with the visitations.

Mrs. Burton Sharpe gave the financial statement, Mrs. James Hoard reported the catering in February, Mrs. Kenneth Weaver outlined the 1970 projects for the World Development and Relief Fund. A packet, telling the story, was given to each lady in attendance.

Mrs. Archie Bailey hopes to pack the supply bags later in March and donations should be handed in soon. Mrs. Elden Chapman read a letter of thanks.

Presbyterian women's group holds meeting

The March meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Women was held at the home of Mrs. K. Tompkins. This meeting opened with a poem and a prayer followed by words of welcome by the president.

Miss Gena Spry opened the devotional period by remarking that prayer was the theme and that many hymns were prayers and that we can say our words as easily as the words "Hymn Book Hour of Prayer" was sung. The scripture reading from Math. 6 v. 1-8 and the meditation were illustrated by the use of two posters. One, an open Bible with Praying Hands and a Cross on top and the other a Golden Key. Miss Spry stated that Christians have a Golden Key to the Bible and God-Prayer. Two poems "Time for Prayer" and "Does God Answer Prayer" were read by Mrs. L. Dafee and Mrs. P. McGee. Miss Spry continued the devotional by reading an article on the Lord's Prayer and stressed that we do not say "The Prayer without 'main intention'" unless we really mean and try to follow every phrase in it.

Mrs. S. McIntosh, accompanied by Mrs. Taylor, sang "He's only a Prayer Away." Miss Spry considered by drawing out our attention to the various prayers in the Bible and reading a poem.

The Roll Call was answered by each lady responding with Bible verse containing the word prayer.

The offering was received and directed by Mrs. Tompkins. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Various items of business were discussed and decided. Several quilt tops were donated. The ladies were reminded to save used stamps and labels.

Mrs. B. Cook was in charge of the study, "Beyond Independence." The author, M. Timukula, a citizen of South Africa, has taught at several African Universities as well as serving in government as Gen. Sec. of the All African Conference of Churches and has also served on the staff at Waterloo University. The study dealt mainly with some of the changes taking place in the church. Before independence, the missionary movement was regarded as the more peaceful arm of colonialism. On the positive side Christianity touched and affected the greatest number of people through its social services in its religious ways. On the negative side, the African who did not become a Christian was often made to feel quite inferior. In spite of all the problems, the movement from missions to churches is almost complete. The older, larger missions have handed over both leadership and financial control to the African Christian.

The lack of money is the crucial problem facing these churches today. This can be alleviated by the Africans finding ways to raise their standard of living in order that the faithful can be enough to support the good works of their church. Many new programs are being tried as they are concerned with the social growth for the sake of a more humane society. The church people, especially the young people, are demanding that the church play an independent role, separate from the government. The African Christian feels that the church must take on the role of Christ and concern itself with the poor and oppressed of their nation.

Mrs. Cook concluded her study by leading the group in an African song.

Following the singing of several old favorite songs, with Mrs. S. McIntosh at the piano, Mrs. Tompkins closed the meeting with the benediction.

A Shamrock contest and a social time was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. R. Eggleton expressed the thanks of everyone to the hostess, program and lunch committees,

The offering taken at the World Day of Prayer Service on March 7 amounted to $63.00. This was remitted to the Inter-church Council.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Williams attended the funeral of her nephew, Edward Emerson, at Belleville

Those from here who assisted with the annual Heart Fund Campaign were Mrs. Ross Jeffs who collected $10.00 and Mrs. Donald Johnson, $18.40, for a total of $48.90 from several families here who were canvassed. The whole community was not included in the arrangements.

Ross Holob observed his 87th birthday anniversary on Sunday, March 12. His family honored him with a dinner party.

Co-operative housing suggested for Stirling

Stirling could become the headquarters for senior citizens' housing in this area, if plans discussed at Monday's council are fulfilled.

Clerk W.L. Pollock indicated that the townships of Rawdon and Huntington both have many qualified residents for this type of living, but Ontario Housing Corporation will not build in these areas due to lack of sewer and other services.

Officials of the OHC were in Stirling Monday and indicated

NEW ROOF TRUSS FACTORY UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Work has been progressing steadily on a building at Stirling P.L. Lumber which will be used for the manufacture of rooftrusses. Until now, roof trusses were constructed outdoors, but with completion of the new building the operation will be moved inside.

Girls lead series 2-0

Sharon Lessard assisted by Sue Wright scored for Stirling at the five-minute mark of the final period with Annabelle Twiddy completed her hat trick goal for Kingsville at the 15-minute mark.

There were four penalties in the game with two going to each team.

Things weren't quite as tough on Friday night as Stirling defeated Kingston 3-1 in the first game of the series. Sue Wright picked up two goals while Debbie Lessard scored a single tally.

The third game in the series will be played April 1 in Kingston.

Stirling bowlers finish second

On Sunday, March 18 the Bay of Quinte Bowlers' Council held their annual tournament at the Belleville Bow-O-Drome. This was a classified singles tournament with the women's classes being 0-150 average; 151-165 average; 166-185 average; 186-205 average and 206+ up-averages.

Men's classes were 0-165 average; 166-185 average; 186-205 average; 206-225 average and 226+ up average.

After qualifying on their regular league bowling Stirling Bowl-O-Drome had 12 bowlers of the 80 bowling for first and second place bowlingsome prizes. Stirling had five bowlers finish in second place. They were Pat Kyle for class 1; Heather McGee for class 2; Lenora West for class 5; Mike Kerr for class 2; and Albert Wilhelm for class 3. Stirling also had a third place in the ladies division and two fourth place finishers in the men's, which was a very good showing.

After qualifying on their regular league bowling Stirling Bowl-O-Drome was eliminated from further competition in the Ontario D semi-finals on Friday night as Stroud won 6-5 in overtime, in the third game of the series.

A goal by Stroud with one minute and 10 seconds left in the final period sent the game into overtime.

Ross Hoard reaches age 87

There were over 60 present at Senior Citizens on Thursday, It was the occasion of Ross Hoard's birthday anniversary. Ross is now 87, still drives his car, very alert and also eligible yet. His two daughters-in-law, Mary and Lois Hoard served a nice meal and also presented him with a gift box with lighted candles.

On hand to help celebrate were several of his grandchildren and his minister, Rev. Wib Cox. Wib often visits our club and always leaves us wearing a smile from some of his well chosen jokes.

Other guests were Clarence Flitchett, Helena McKeown, Mrs. Good from Mountain Grove and Art and Lena Osterhoff of Frankford.

The prizes went to Margaret Flitchett and John Ryan for high and John Connor and Lena Osterhoff from Frankford were low.

Most of us are becoming expert losers. I guess it's because we have so much practice at that, Margaret Ward held the lucky cup.

We were happy to have George Heasman back from his sojourn in the hospital. He says the surgeon corrected his IBS but didn't do much to help his eucere.

Ross thanked all for a nice party and Pres. Fred Heasman also expressed his thanks to Mary and Lois for including the Senior Citizens in it also.

Stirling Bantams win semi-finals

(By Thom Reynolds)

Stirling Bantams squeaked past Nobleton 4-3 Friday night in Nobleton to capture the Bantam D Ontario semi-finals three games to one.

The game proved to be a real cliff hanger as Stirling watched a 3-0 lead dwindle away in the face of costly third period penalties.

Stirling took a 3-0 lead in the third period but Nobleton came up with three goals two minutes apart as they had the man advantage over Stirling. A goal by Stan Myers assisted by Kevin Solmes at 19:05 in the period with Stirling shorthanded gave Stirling the edge. Stan Myers took the puck in the corner from Solmes and shot from the corner of the net. The puck hit the goalies' pads and slid into the net.

Stirling started off the scoring in the first period with a goal at 17:05 by Stan Myers with Glen Detor and Jeff Farrell the playmakers. Stan Myers picked up his second goal of the night, unassisted, at the 18:00 minute mark of the second period.

A shot from the blue line by Stan Myers on a pass from Kevin Solmes at the 6-minute mark of the third period gave Stirling its third period lead. Nobleton picked up their first goal at 13:42 of the period with Lewis scoring from Williams.

At 15:36 Clark scored for the losers with a goal from Williams and Brown drawing the assists. Nobleton had the man advantage on both of the periods and tied the game up at 17:26 with a goal by Brown assisted by Clark.

The tieing goal came with a scramble in front of the Stirling goal leaving goalie, Richard Whatman scoreless.

Stirling out-shot Nobleton 24 to 17. There were 16 penalties with Stirling drawing nine. Five of the nine penalties came in the final period.

Emerging stars of the night seemed to be Stan Myers with his four goal winning streak and defenceman David Jeter who had a mix of man of the Match attack during the game and especially held Nobleton off while Stirling was serving penalties.

Stirling will now enter the all-Ontario Bantam Championship against Bradford's Six Nations' team in the best of five series which begins this Friday night in Stirling at 9 p.m. The second game will be on Sunday afternoon in Waterloo.

Six Nations clinched their semi-finals against Oshawa three straight after defeating them 7-3, 7-5 and 5-4.

Councillor D. Bensley hands in resignation

maining councillors, Edward Klompmaker, Fred Brandt and Maurice Montgomery.

Mr. Bensley was in his first term on council, and at the time of his resignation was chairman of the Police, Fire and Fire Committee, and a member of the Recreation and Finance Committees. The reeve said after the new appointment is made, there will be some re-alignment of the committee structure. This will be done after next week's election.

In the vote of December 1970, Bensley told council that "it was with regret he felt it necessary to resign, and wished council success for the balance of the year." He had hoped to finish out his two-year term that would have ended December 31, but found it impossible to do so.

Contacted by the News-Argus after the meeting, Bensley stated business pressure, (he is distribution manager with Elaine Footwear), was the principal reason for his decision to step aside. He said it was a choice between work and council, so it was obvious which must be selected.

Under changes recently in the Municipal Act, the candidate with the next highest vote totals in the last election is NOT automatically chosen for the vacancy, as was the previous practice. Reeve Robert Anderson could recall only one other instance of replacing a councillor in the past 10 years, that being when Councillor Bateman was employed as clerk-treasurer of Hastings County halfway through his term as reeve of the village.

Initiation (of a person who has been interviewed and agreed to stand if elected) then a vote shall be held, with the Reeve to break the tie if needed.

Reeve Anderson said he would not make any nomination, and left the work up to the three remaining councillors.

COUNCIL

The doors on the community hall, which came in for comment from Fire Chief Graham Mouck two weeks ago, have been rebuilt, Fred Brandt told council that on examination, there was nothing else that could be done. He also mentioned that there were root problems, and he had arranged for a roofing company to examine the situation Tuesday.

Personal

Dale Clarke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Clarke, R.R. 4, Stirling, underwent an appendectomy in Belleville General Hospital on Monday night of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mitts of Bayside were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Kemp, James St.

Mrs. Harry Kelly of Warkworth and Mrs. Mrs. Helen Kelly of Brighton have been visiting with Mrs. Warren Harlow of Stirling.

Residents at the lower end of Emma Street petitioned council for a street light. The matter was endorsed and sent on to the PUC for further action.

A high school group from Ottawa, operating under the Opportunities For Youth Program of the federal government, is seeking permission to put on some entertainment in the village this summer. No definite plans will be known until after April 15 when the group may receive approval of its grant application. If it does more details will be forthcoming.

FROM THE CLASSROOMS OF YESTERYEAR

Several teachers at the Stirling Junior and Senior Schools wore gowns of grandmother's day during education week held

Service goes down as rates go up

(By Lynn Jones)

For many years, newspapers were delivered by the post office facility at minimum charge, in fact it was considered part of the vital flow of information to do so. About four years ago, the bureaucrats determined we weren't paying our fair share of the costs, so rates increased. In many instances, although weeklies were not too hard hit, many publications, among them such a well-known one as the London Free Press, failed to qualify for second class mailing privileges, and the mail rate became prohibitive. It ceased publication. We know of several that have had to curtail their size in order to keep mailing within a reasonable figure. Such instances as these arose because the papers or magazines were considered to be the official voice of the particular group they served, and thus not truly "news" papers.

We have no quarrel with any effort to make any segment of the publishing industry pay its way, but when it does, why should the customer suffer from the type of service which in many instances has dropped as rapidly as the price rose?

We speak here of two specific instances. One lady this week cancelled her subscription to the News - Argus because it takes anywhere from a week to two weeks for the paper to travel from Stirling to Port Credit, a distance of perhaps 115 miles, a little more if you follow the exact route of the mail bag. Another, who lives in Toronto, gets hers either Thursday or Friday of the same week.

Why should there be this variance when the two papers travel from Stirling to Belleville together, and presumably should go on the same truck or train from there to somewhere in the greater Toronto area? We did at one time take a weekly paper from Gravenhurst, and it always arrived the following Wednesday or Thursday. Some weeks it came real early...the Tuesday after publication.

Somewhere along the line, there is obviously a communication breakdown in the postal service itself. Does the paper industry, which makes printed paper the biggest employer in Canada, have to be constantly impeded by indifference and lack of speedy delivery, by a group that used to pride itself on service despite rain, snow, sleet, etc?

We feel that newspapers are doing their share. Papers go to

Mount Pleasant

(By Mrs. Percy MacMullen)
On Wednesday, March 15 Mrs. Robert Merrick, Mrs. Joseph Sager, Mrs. Ross Jeffs and Mrs. John Talsma represented Mount Pleasant U.C.W. and were in charge of Tea and Refreshments at Hastings Mandate Belleville.

Grace Huber has returned home from the General Hospital, Belleville, where he has been a patient for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Reid and Jennifer, Kingston, spent a recent weekend with his mother, Mrs. Allan Reid and brother Edwin.

Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ketcheson, Belleville were guests at a dinner party in honor of Rose Hoard on Sunday, March 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoard.

Twenty people from here attended the annual Thrashermen and Power Farmer's Banquet at Club Canara, Belleville on Friday evening, March 17.

Mrs. Edith Chapman and children visited Mrs. Claire Knight on Wednesday.

A few days from now we will visit the Hoggs Funeral Home on the occasion of the death of a former resident, Mrs. Violet Rose. Her late husband was in charge of Central Cheese Factory, following his death here, Mrs. Rose and family took up residence in Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reid and family recently moved to the Mumby apartment, Fourth Concession.

Mrs. Frank Bailey and Terry, and Mrs. Ross Jeffs and David spent Friday evening at Nobleton. The boys took part in the Bantam hockey game.

Gordon Lim was taken by ambulance on Saturday to the General Hospital, Belleville.

Edwin Reid and his mother, Mrs. Allen Reid spent a day recently with Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Reid, Kingston.

On Thursday, March 16 Mr. and Mrs. James Hoard, Gordon, Jeannette, Margaret, Isobel and Loretta, Mrs. Robert Hoard, Linda, Heather and Kenneth served a high tea luncheon in honor of Ross Hoard at the Senior Citizen Club meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Wallace and son children are now living in the former Andrews home on the fourth concession of Rawdon, a weekly club meeting.

The 125-amp combination service panelboard is now on the market which should have a fairly wide application in smaller and medium sized new homes with electric heating and in homes of similar size that are being converted to electric heating.

It has been felt that a good part of the electric heating market in the 10 to 15 kilowatt range has been lost because of additional costs resulting from the lack of a low cost service panelboard between the 100 and 200-amp sizes. As a result, the Niagara Region Inspection Department requested and assisted various manufacturers in the development of a product that would reduce overall service entrance costs for loads that are marginally in excess of 100 amperes.

Amalgamated Electric Corporation (CEC) first manufactured such a panelboard with a 125-amp circuit breaker for a pilot housing project by Dofasco Limited in Hamilton. FPE-Pioneer Electric Limited was the first to obtain CSA-Certification and has been accepting orders since January 1.

The 125-amp size has a definite advantage because, in spite of the cost of the panelboard, labour and wiring material costs compare favorably with those of a 100-amp service. Hence, considerable savings are realized where a 125-amp overhead service can be used in lieu of a 200-amp overhead service.

Election talk

One advantage our American friends have is that they know an election campaign is in progress and they will be called upon to vote early in November for the candidates of their choice. It's too bad the expensive guessing games in Canada couldn't be settled by our politicians who earn, to use the phrase loosely, $36,000 a year, could get down to the business of running the country.

A remark made by Senator Richard Stanbury this week on a free-time political broadcast surely sets the tone of the Liberal thinking, and everyone seems to admit an election is within a few months of happening except the man who counts, Pierre Elliott Trudeau. Stanbury said in effect that the present leadership is the only way out of whatever mess we are in. The veracity of this may be questioned, but surely the fact he makes statements like this indicates he feels a vote is near. As president of the party he should have a pretty good idea.

On the other side of the coin, the PM was quoted during the past few days as saying that maybe the activities of the opposition will cause an election to be called. That is utter bunk. The very fact an election has been called shows clearly that PET thinks either the electorate has not enough confidence to re-elect him, or he wants the other parties to wear themselves out fearing about an imagined campaign speaking, so when the real time comes, his Grits will be rested and ready.

PET keeps reminding anybody who cares to listen that HE doesn't need to worry for another year or more. Mathematically speaking it is correct, but politically it would be suicide to wait that long, as then everyone would almost know the time and day. He certainly is getting lots of mileage from the guessing that is going on. By law we are restricted to Mondays for voting, and it takes about 60 days from dissolution to voting, so as of now, May 29 is a good guess, except required work would be delayed over Easter weekend. He has all of April to call the vote and still make it in June, so from this point it looks as if anytime from April 3 or so we MAY expect the long-awaited pronouncement,

Do You Remember?

25 Years Ago

Apparently chased from its winter hide-out, a large doe was seen by many farmers in Sidings township last month of the year. On Monday, a foreman first saw it crossing his farm, heading north towards Raymond Chambers' property. Later it was seen by Ray Danford on the road in front of the Chambers property. According to Mr. Danford, the doe would weigh about 200 pounds.

Congratulations are extended to Mrs. Wesley Hawkins, of the Village, who is celebrating her 81st birthday today, March 20th. Her many friends will join in wishing her many more happy birthdays.

While working on a construction job in Bellville last week, Hettie Lummus, of this village, found an American nickel dating back 115 years. The coin, which is about half the size of a Canadian dime, bore the date 1832.

Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Hellwell are contemplating departure this coming week for Tucson, Arizona, where they will visit relatives. Their son, Grant, will accompany them on the trip, which, in all probability, will be the ladies.

Rev. G. H. Copeland of Campbellford will preach Educational sermons in the Methodist church on Sunday next.

The management of the Public Library have made arrangements for a first class entertainment in the Opera House on Tuesday evening, April 2nd. Further particulars next week. Note the date, and don't miss it.

Another header G. T. R. freight train going east ran into two cows on the track near Halway on Sunday afternoon last. The engines and a number of cars were thrown from the track, but fortunately no one was injured.

At a meeting of the Kingston Presbyterians held last week in the Limehouse City, a request was made by St. Andrew's congregation, Stirling, that permission be granted to sell the present manse and adjoining property. The request was granted.

Owing to the popularity of the Alexander hymns the song service at St. Andrew's church is to be continued each Sunday until further announcement. The attendance at these services has been unusually good, and the young people are especially appreciative of the musical portion of the service.

60 Years Ago

Arthur Weaver, R.R. 3, Frankford, brought in an old clipping from the News-Argus, which we think you will find interesting. It reads as follows:

SIXTY YEARS AGO IN STIRLING To some of our readers a bit of the ancient history of our town will bring crowding memories of places and people and happenings almost ... but not quite ... forgotten. To others the following list of names of those who were business men here in the days past will bring the thought "Here today and gone tomorrow."

Mr. J. T. Belshaw, to whom we are indebted for the list of Stirling's old residents, can call to his memory the faces of all but one of these men. How many do you remember?

I especially like the typewriter that could do a lot of words in a minute. Thank you once again as I enjoyed the trip very well.

Keeping it clean

with Bill Dodds

Good clean country air...

People keep talking about dirty air and water pollution in the cities ... something you escape by moving to a small town or the country.

Don't you believe it!

You know what really bothers people about air pollution? It's the smell. They complain more about odor than they do about dirt.

And there is something especially ripe about a badly run pigery or poultry farm.

Just stand downwind from one. The Ontario Water Resources Commission say that 600 cows, 5,200 hogs or 70,000 broilers produce a solid waste disposal problem that equals a town of 10,000 people.

Solid waste disposal problem...

That's manure.

It is easy to spread it around and make use of it when farmers produced crops as well as animals. But this is the age of specialization and intensive animal farming.

So manure is piling up and getting rid of it is a headache. You even have to be careful spreading it, because too much can create a water pollution problem. An overdose means nutrients wash into the rivers and lakes.

It is too good a fertilizer to waste. It has to be used to produce crops. But there's no easy answer to the problem of handling it. We're still looking for answers.

But there are a lot of things a farmer can do to avoid offending his neighbors.

North St. businesses broken into Neighboring businesses on North Street were victims of breakings last week, as thieves entered Stirling Lumber Late Tuesday night and visited Stirling Farm and Garden some time Friday night.

Bylaw Officer Frank Broekema may have been responsible for the fact the lumber company safe was not opened. The safe was taken from the office in one of the company's own wheelbarrows, out to the back of the premises.

On his nightly patrol, Mr. Broekema noticed something wrong and decided to investigate a little further. By the time he arrived at the O.P.P. office, and officers arrived, there was no sign of the burglars, but the safe was found in the field behind the building. Manager Arthur Loucks said the safe was ruined, and in another five minutes it would have been open.

Officials of Stirling Farm and Garden said Monday that there was only a small amount of cash taken. The most damage was done to a small radio and a brief case which had been stolen sometime from the building and totally wrecked. Tracks indicated there were two people involved in this episode.

Bethel U.C.W.

The last "Pot Luck" dinner for this season was held on March 23 with a very good attendance. After clean up chores, Mrs. Russell called the U.C.W. meeting to order with the reading of the Easter message and prayer.

The roll call, a verse containing the word "fasting", was answered by 17 members and visitors, also 5 children present.

Mrs. G. Clancy and Mrs. B. Hadley conducted the worship service and later a short program. The opening hymn was "Rejoice, the Lord is King," with Mrs. Elliott as pianist. Mrs. Hadley read a "Good News" translation of the Scripture, St. John 20, v. 18, "Behold, beneath the Cross of Jesus" was sung by Mrs. D. Heath. Mrs. Hadley led in prayer. A poem, "A guard of the Sepulchre" was read by Mrs. G. Sine. Mrs. Clancy gave the meditation on the theme, "Easter". The hymn "Christ the Lord is risen today," was followed by prayer.

Mrs. Russell was in charge of the business session. The min-

Horticultural Society meets

(By Mrs. Percy MacMullen) On Monday, March 20, 45 people convened in St. John's Anglican Church hall for the monthly meeting of Stirling Horticultural Society.

The president, Mrs. Floyd Armstrong, opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer, Gardener's prayer and a welcome to all.

Mrs. John Doran read the minutes and correspondence. The news letter reminded the group to be ever mindful of litter. It also gave information re spring planting of flowers and other timely advice.

Mrs. Grant Hubble, treasurer, reported 40 paid members to date. The proceeds from the recent bus trip to the Toronto flower show were $21.25. An honorarium of $15.00 will be given to the educational department of St. John's Church for the use of their hall for three meetings. A donation of $5.00 was made to the Stirling Festival of Sacred Praise.

Mrs. Luella Bronson reported sending 11 cards for the friend ship department.

The society will provide eight Easter lillies for their annual contribution to the various churches, St. John's Anglican Church, St. Paul's United Church, St. James' the Minor Church, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Grace Chapel, Good Tiding Pentecostal Tabernacle, Mount Pleasant United Church and Bethel United Church.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, April 17, in St. Paul's United Church.

Mrs. Carmen Nix reported that plans for the bus trip to Oshawa had been cancelled. There will be a trip to Ottawa to view the tulips in May. The president reminded the membership to plan ahead, plant slips and prepare for the annual flower sale in May.

When the nominating committee brought in their report in January, 1972, they also chose a committee of eight ladies for each month of the year. This group provides the program and the refreshments, as their contribution to the society.

At the social hour a collection of 25 cents per person was taken and this goes directly into the funds of the treasurer. Each member is asked for food only once during the year.

Mrs. Edmund McConnell was chosen for the program.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen read two poems, Spring, written by Louise Bourgeois of Athens in 1940 and The Garden Club Song, that states in closing that he who makes a garden works hard in hand with God.

Mrs. Milford Wright introduced her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jack Wrightman of Trenton, who showed scenic pictures from her recent trip to Florida.

Mrs. McConnel showed the various stages of this craft and most of the members made a flower to carry home.

Miss Annie Holmes assisted with cutting the cartons. The essentials needed were provided for the members so each could fashion a flower.

Mrs. McConnell displayed a colorful table centrepiece which she had previously made for this occasion.

The refreshments for the social hour were angel cake, strawberries, ice cream, tea and coffee.

The winners of the lucky prizes were Laura Waite and Hazel Wrightman.

EASTER

The Christian calendar undergoes its most serious convolution this weekend, as the concepts of physical death and ultimate survival over it and sin, command the centre stage of religious life. It is a time of agony, as the story of the Crucifixion unfolds on Friday, and at the same moment an hour of triumph and glory, as Jesus Christ comes to Mary Magdalene in the garden, living evidence of his atonement.

Most of the world pictures Easter as a time for new clothes, perhaps a new car, and generally sprucing up things. After all, it comes not long after the arrival of spring, and after the drudgery of winter. It is only human to want of cast off the drags of winter clothing and look forward with anticipation to the coming summer and the joy it brings.

This also is the Easter story, if you read carefully the accounts in the New Testament, that fulfil the prophecy of the Old. The doctrine of redeeming grace, able to be achieved only by a sinless sacrifice, was something passed down from the time of Moses. The Jews still look for that Messiah, believing him to be a deliverer from physical oppression, rather than the medium of freeing men's minds from eternal bondage under the leadership and direction of Satan.

No man before or since, walked this earth in sinless form, and after death, returned to proclaim his victory. No man was able to endure the temptings or sufferings, with as little evidence of pain. No man was able to command the attention of others, and speak truths in such simple language, that even the most illiterate could understand. No man was able to communicate with God and carry out the wishes of his father, to the extent that it cost him his life.

Some have had the type of analysis to determine how such a supposedly advanced society as the Empire of Rome was, could condone the mockery of justice that was the arrest, trial, and execution of this Man who never did anything more violent than put healing mud on a blind man's eyes or say anything more violent than "love your neighbor as yourself." We let men and women walk the streets today who are accused of more serious offences, and even without posting bail.

Viewed from every possible angle, this happening in history, which turned the world on a new course, can only be considered in the light of God's will. We are challenged at every hand that none came to help. Even though armies were promised, their help was refused. He was looking for the help of the heart, not the aid from the sword.

As we march further and further into the realms of unknown space, created by the same God that allowed the agony and ecstasy of Easter to happen. In His own time, we should be aware that there is no room for Divine Power in this other world which may support human life. The human mind and intelligence cannot grasp the infinite glories of space, any more than that it can comprehend the mysteries of the atom.

As we come to another Easter, and this focal point of human history is brought pointedly before us, let the joy that is His reign supreme, and never again will worry over space or the future be among the elements that clutter every day living.

BLACK TERN

This small, black-bodied, grey-winged tern, is a common resident of prairie marshes, ponds and lakes. Constantly on the wing it flies with an erratic, twisting and turning flight, beating back and forth, sometimes low, and then high, in pursuit of insects. Nests are located on mud-bars, among windrows of dead reeds or other marsh vegetation, occasionally on a floating log or a muskrat house. Eggs 2 to 4 are buff or olive in color, marked with blackish-brown.

Winter driving hard on vehicles

Winter! It's hard on cars. Spinning tires, windshield wipers coated with ice, mufflers scraping over snow banks, horns that won't blow....

And spring is not much better. There are potholes to shake up the steering and tires, and big puddles of salty water to finish off weakened ignition systems. The family transportation has taken quite a beating since the snow tires were slapped on, plugs were changed and radiator was checked last fall.

There's a very good chance that it is no longer safe.

Approximately 60 per cent of the cars in provinces of Canada, where there are compulsory safety check-ups, fall on the first test.

"That means there are a lot of potentially dangerous cars on the road right now," said Phil Farmer, Executive Director of the Canada Safety Council. "And these cars are responsible for accidents." Approximately 10 per cent of all automobile accidents in the country are caused by mechanical malfunction and almost all of these can be traced to lack of maintenance, he said. There were about 1/2 million traffic accidents in Canada last year.

This is why the Canada Safety Council is in favor of compulsory motor vehicle inspections, he explained. Inspections are compulsory in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and British Columbia. Partial systems exist in Ontario and Quebec and a pilot project is operating in Manitoba.

Drivers must be aware of the fact that mechanical defects can occur between inspections.

In an effort to fill the gap, the Canada Safety Council recommends two different types of safety checks.

The first developed in co-operation with the Canadian Automotive Trade magazine, is carried out with an increasing number of garages across the country. The Council makes a safety maintenance check list available to garages. These lists can be filled out by a mechanic and give the motorist a good idea of the condition of his car. There is no obligation for the motorist to have work done at the garage. Yet he ought to know that if so many animals are infected, the pastures and barn yards used by the cattle will be heavily infested with egg and larvae. It is also wise to assume that routine worming is the best management decision.

The other test, a 10-point diagnosis, can be carried out by the motorist himself while he is at the wheel of his car. It focuses his attention on various possible danger points including: brake pedal sinking to the floor under light foot pressure; car pulling constantly to one side while stopping; excessive play in the steering; car vibrating at 50-65 mph; steering column shimmying at high or low speeds; rear-wheel locking upon light application of brakes; poor roadability (requiring constant steering to keep it on the road); excessive noise or whistling in the exhaust system; unusual odors inside the car; and inoperative directional signals.

"A person wrongly has a tendency to get used to most of these faults as they gradually develop," Mr. Farmer said.

Drawing attention to them with the 10-point diagnosis makes drivers realize how dangerous their cars may be.

"But even better is the check-up at the garage."

WEEKLY REPORT

FROM FOXBORO DISTRICT

CO-OP

(BY JACK WOOD)

Worms do considerable harm to a beef feeder or dairyman's enterprise. Probably much more than anyone fully realizes. We know that well over 50% of herds surveyed are infected by one of several kinds of worms.

The most common worms are lung worms and stomach worms, and each affects different parts of your animal's system. The lung worm creates blockage of air passages, and you'll see symptoms of coughing and emphysema. If the infection is heavy enough, your apt to see some mortality.

Briefly, worm feeders (according to manufacturers' directions) when the feeders arrive on the farm, Worm cattle, pigs, horses, including dairy calves and hifers - unless they are within a month of slaughter time. Worm milkers when they are dry.

The stomach worms affect digestion. Some of the worms burrow into delicate stomach or intestinal tissues, which of course, cuts down on digestive efficiency. It affects the animal's ability to convert feed into meat, or milk.

Some of the stomach worms drain off blood, others, heavy infections could mean as much as 1/2 pint of blood loss per day. Loss of appetite, dehydration, sometimes swelling under the jaw, persistent diarrhea are various symptoms of stomach worms or intestinal worms.

A major challenge facing the careful herd manager is to detect the presence of worms, before they get so bad that the clear cut symptoms develop. Slight infections are not detectable. But it is safe to assume that because so many animals are infected, the pastures and barn yards used by the cattle will be heavily infested with egg and larvae. It is also wise to assume that routine worming is the best management decision.

Some feeders, in the past, used to think that stomach worms could be "flushed" out of the cattle by feeding extra rations. But all this does is "feed" the worms and "flush" your profits into the gutter.

Use of a broad spectrum wormer, that won't stress cattle, or knock them off their feed, is an excellent approach.

eight were present, Mrs. Rev.

May was a visitor; also Mrs. W.
Martin, Stewardship Chairman from General Executive. Mrs. S. Elliott received at the door.

Mrs. Carman Fitchett, the Leader, presided. After the singing of "There is a Green Hill Far Away" and a short prayer, she read a legendary story of the Easter Lily, the symbol of purity.

After the business part of the meeting, Mrs. H. Waite conducted a worship service with a stewardship theme. "All the Way
My Savior Leads Me" was sung, followed by a meditation on "Thanksgiving" and prayer. On the table was a lighted candle representing Christ, and a gold box described as His hope chest ready to be filled. The point was that His followers with their talents are His hope. Several ladies came forward, reading lines and making presentations - a candle for light, a Bible, a new book and piece of bread, a coin, and last of all, a lily, symbolic of gifts for the hope of Christ. Mrs. Rogie read the story of the talents from Scripture, "Take My Life and Let It Be Consecrated" was sung, and the offering was gathered and dedicated.

Mrs. W. Martin then gave a talk on Stewardship using the Overhead Projector. Stewardship is the recognition that Christ is the Lord of all life, finding expression in joy, love, happiness to give of time, skills, abilities, energy and money. It is a state of mind and spirit, a way of life. Supporting the church is an outlet as the church is a community of hope, with national and international values. It was pointed out that for every dollar reaching the needy the cost through federal distribution is three dollars to get it there;
through charitable organizations,
twenty-seven cents; but through
